

Labyrinth Design Studio is a leading themed entertainment/experiential design firm that specializes in designing and fabricating sets for film, theater, and live events. The studio provides both a service and product, as they work to design and build the physical sets for their clients. We work with creative professionals to design a unique visual aesthetic for each and every project. Once the design is complete, our fabricators work hard to make the ideas and drawings come to life.

WHO WE ARE

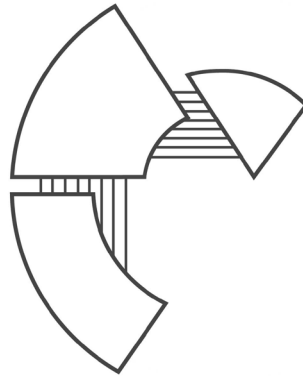

Made up of just over 40 employees, Labyrinth Design works hard to remain the leading experiential design firm in the United States. The studio is made up of a diverse group of specialized individuals who come from all different backgrounds. It is a collaborative environment, a melting pot of ideas from professionals who come from many different industries: theatrical scenic design, architecture, interior design, fabricators, sculptors, illustrators, and the list goes on.

WHERE WE ARE

Labyrinth Design Studio offices are located in Los Angeles, California and New York City. The studio has worked on projects located around the globe, but specializes in film and theater sets in Los Angeles and New York City, respectively.
